Streamline Your Program Delivery and Rebate Reimbursements

Program Fulfillment Solutions for Energy Providers and Service Companies

Streamline your program delivery and rebate reimbursements with Brillion Fulfill applications. Track program participation and energy savings while giving customers the real-time status updates they're asking for. Our configurable suite of program management tools is purpose-built to streamline your operations and improve the effectiveness of your energy efficiency and demand-side management initiatives.

Automate everything from enrollment tracking and incentive processing to third-party data uploads and regulatory reporting. With Brillion's built-in analytics, your team can monitor the health of your program portfolio and quickly identify opportunities for improvement.

CASE STUDY

EfficiencyOne partnered with Brillion to devise and implement its Customer Information System for program administration. All programs and customer interactions are housed within one solution to minimize manual efforts while integrating everything from applications and fulfillment to reporting.

Results: 52K rebates proceed, $54M incentives paid

What Can I Do with Brillion Fulfill Applications?

Close your communication gaps.

Customers, staff, trade allies, implementors, community organizations, and more. Your utility programs involve a whirlwind of activities across diverse stakeholders. Eliminate data silos and calm the chaos with the industry's leading fulfillment solution. With Brillion, you finally have a single source of truth. Communication, documentation, approvals, and payments are centrally tracked so every stakeholder sees the data they need— when they need it.

Increase productivity and drive savings.

Automate the path from enrollment to payment and let your staff refocus their attention on what matters most. Our trade ally management portal enables you to harness the power of the marketplace. Meanwhile, built-in reports and dashboards help you see where you are driving cost-effective savings, allowing you to shift your budget to overperforming programs.

Reduce errors and streamline reporting.

Whether you're a program director, manager, or analyst, monthly performance reports shouldn't be the bane of your existence. It's time to stop wrestling with eight different datasets for weeks after the end of the month. Enter Brillion. With everyone pushing data into the same system, your standard reports are updated in real time as the information enters the system.

Tell a compelling, data-driven story.

Legislators, regulators, chambers of commerce, management boards, low-income and environmental advocates, and vendors. You must tell a compelling, data-driven story to lead the conversation and positively impact the future. With all your program data in a single system, Brillion gives you the power to quickly build ad-hoc reports that answer questions from multiple angles—all with compelling visualizations.

Powered by Brillion's data insights engine.

At the core of every Brillion solution lies our data insights engine. It's what supercharges our customer engagement applications and turns utility data into actionable insights.
